Veteran Receives Long Overdue Purple Heart at Surprise EAA Ceremony

Seventy years ago, Fred Zurbuchen, of Waupun, Wisconsin, was wounded by anti-aircraft flak during a WWII bombing mission over Dusseldorf, Germany. The B-17 ball turret gunner was a staff sergeant with the 493rd Bomb Group. Despite his combat injury he never received his Purple Heart because his mission paperwork was destroyed in a fire. When Chris Henry, EAA membership services representative, became aware of this, he set out on his own mission to correct it. Read more >>
