EAA is a community of passionate aviation enthusiasts that promotes and supports flying. Our mission is to grow participation in aviation by sharing The Spirit of Aviation®.

EAA is a community of nearly 200,000 members. The association of aviation enthusiasts was built 60 years ago on the foundation of people interested in homebuilt aircraft and quickly diversified to meet the needs of all members, no matter what they fly—from homebuilts to jets, single-engine aircraft to helicopters, ultralights to warbirds, and everything in between.

Nowhere is this broad spectrum of interests more evident than at the World’s Greatest Aviation Celebration®, EAA® AirVenture® Oshkosh™. They come from around the world to buy aircraft kits or parts for their maintenance, restoration, or building projects. They come to see the latest innovations. It is the world’s largest aviation gathering.

Through the years, EAA members, with grassroots efforts, built a network of nearly 900 chapters worldwide, where they share camaraderie, knowledge, and their love of flying year-round. Only EAA can boast this network of chapters, where members form an even stronger affinity with EAA, its brand, and its mission to grow participation in aviation.
It goes without saying that our members are aspirational. Many have the satisfaction of owning and operating aircraft and/or building or restoring an aircraft. Most are seeking that next step to becoming a better pilot. Sixty-four percent of members have recently learned to fly or improved their skills, and 43 percent took flight instruction; 37 percent learned about or worked on aircraft restoration; and 38 percent learned about building an aircraft from scratch or a kit.

For EAA members and AirVenture attendees, aviation is more than just a hobby. It’s a lifestyle. They fly, they maintain, they train, they educate, they teach, they mentor.

They buy. And, they buy from those they trust. Their strong affinity to EAA leads to trust of businesses and organizations that share the same affinity. In other words, when you engage with EAA, you gain instant credibility with our members.

What does this mean for you? With your objective to grow your business and increase profits in mind, EAA provides the audience that has the ability and desire to make an investment in your product or service.

“EAA and EAA Members are great partners because they’re interested in technology, they’re interested in innovation, and they’re interested in performance. And what greater venue for us to participate in than AirVenture.”

– Kevin Keling, Ford Motor Company
With our depth of general aviation knowledge and the backing of the World’s Greatest Aviation Celebration®, the EAA Business Development team can customize a partnership plan that will maximize your investment and heighten recognition of your brand.

We have many ways for you to engage:

> Sponsorship at events like EAA® AirVenture® Oshkosh™ or of aviation education programs that advance EAA’s goal to build the pilot community
> Exhibit space at EAA AirVenture Oshkosh, which attracts more than 550,000 people annually
> Online and print advertising in publications like EAA Sport Aviation, considered by members to be the No. 1 benefit of membership
> Philanthropic investments that support such strategic programs as Young Eagles, our world-class museum, and scholarships for students to advance their education or desire to gain aviation knowledge.

Not only do we have a wealth of options, but we also will heighten the value of your investment with special benefits and amenities developed specifically to meet your needs. As we help you build an investment plan, we consider your business, your needs, and your goals. An investment plan is defined as a multi-dimensional relationship encompassing exhibits, advertising, and/or sponsorships. Contact us today to learn how a customized partnership can make a positive impact to your bottom line.

“Cirrus decided to partner with EAA for a collection of reasons. One is because EAA has always had a very passionate participant base whether they’re enthusiasts or active aircraft owners or just want to get into aviation someday on their own. We love sharing personal aviation with people around the world. At AirVenture in particular, it’s a wonderful forum and opportunity for us to see a half million people who come from all over the world to see what Cirrus has.”

—Ben Kowalski, Cirrus Aircraft
THE POWER OF PARTNERSHIP

EAA® AirVenture® Oshkosh™

The World’s Greatest Aviation Celebration® brings together more than 550,000 aviation enthusiasts for one week every year, only in Oshkosh. Daily air shows may take center stage above the convention grounds, but members say the world’s largest aviation event means much more to them. Oshkosh is a destination where they go to see aircraft displays and visit with vendors and exhibitors in a place that no other show or venue provides.

No matter how many trade shows you exhibit at each year, you know that no place quite captures the magic of aviation like Oshkosh. It’s the world’s largest aviation marketplace, and the right place to showcase your innovations and speak to an audience that is naturally drawn to what you have to offer.

That interest doesn’t stop when the show ends. AirVenture attendees are influencers and year-round advocates for what they have seen and learned in Oshkosh. If it’s seen and can be purchased at AirVenture, members hold that product or service in high regard. At AirVenture, they are more likely to try and buy. And they continue to buy throughout the year.

“EAA is a great organization that does an exceptional job of bringing people to you, AirVenture is no better example of that. They have an incredible draw of over half a million people annually and people come here to this event specifically to look for solutions. So, if you really want to reach a customer that’s in the buying mood, there’s no better place than AirVenture.”

— Jim Alpiser, Garmin International
AirVenture Attendees

57 percent of AirVenture attendees have household incomes of more than $100,000 (the U.S. average is 20% of all households).

- $50,000-$99,000 ........... 30%
- $100,000-$149,900 ....... 25%
- > $150,000 ..................... 32%

> 92 percent male, 8 percent female
> 38 percent attend with their family
> 89 percent attendees are 45 years or older
> 75 percent pilots
> Mean number of hours flown in a year: 190
  Median is 90 hours
> 42 percent own an aircraft; 20 percent own more than one; 18 percent rent
> 14 percent have a profession involving the use of aviation
> 15 percent plan to buy their next aircraft in the next two years; 8 percent plan to buy an aircraft in two-plus years
> 21 percent fly to AirVenture in a private aircraft
> The average length of stay at AirVenture is 3.8 days
> Most attendees are from the United States; 9 percent are international visitors
> 94 percent are planning to attend EAA® AirVenture® Oshkosh™ next year

“Within this audience you have the makers, the breakers, the dreamers, and the do-ers. It’s a huge opportunity for us to attract talent, these are very well educated people who come here, and they have a lot of disposable income.”

– Gautham Appaya, GE Aviation
Each year, hundreds of companies attract qualified sales leads quickly, easily, and affordably when they exhibit at EAA® AirVenture® Oshkosh™. Industry leaders consistently report outstanding results from their investment at AirVenture. They meet or exceed sales goals, exceed expectations for lead generation, and improve brand awareness year after year.

EAA offers a vast scope of exhibit options throughout the grounds, with four exhibit halls and numerous outdoor specialty exhibit areas. EAA Aviation Gateway Park is an exciting, interactive, and engaging experience that has been re-imagined as a gateway to aviation, helping attendees discover the possibilities in innovation and education, as well as careers in aviation.

When exhibiting at AirVenture, you will have the ability to interact with both the impulse buyer and the planned buyer. For a majority of aircraft owners who attend, AirVenture is a planned buying destination. Their shopping convenience is your opportunity.

“The exposure that you reach, not just domestically but internationally by being here at EAA, you wouldn’t get that exposure in other places. If I was a vendor and wanted to reach the masses, it’s a perfect opportunity and place to do that here at EAA.”

— Tina Rodgers, FedEx
AirVenture provides unique opportunities to exhibitors that no other show can offer. We combine static aircraft displays and exhibit areas. You can customize your exhibit to create an expanded storefront. You can choose to exhibit inside or outside in a specialty area that fits your buying demographic.

This is all available to you with a convenient pricing model. A seven-day exhibit investment in AirVenture is the lowest in the industry; plus, the annual show is fresh and dynamic, keeping it relevant for exhibitors and buyers, as well as attendees.

No matter what your business objective, we have an exhibit opportunity at AirVenture to meet your needs.
Exhibiting at AirVenture is smart business

- 76 percent of participating companies do business internationally
- Companies return year after year. The average length of time companies have been doing business at AirVenture is 10 years.

AirVenture’s economic impact

- AirVenture has a $170-plus million economic impact on the Oshkosh community
- The show generates more than $56.2 million in total income
- More than 1,700 jobs are supported by the event
- The show generates more than $28.7 million in wages and salary
- AirVenture generates $84.6 million in direct spending in the Oshkosh area

The EAA Spirit of Aviation Mobile Experience is an interactive mobile marketing unit. The trailer features several hands-on activities that introduce visitors not only to EAA and AirVenture, but to the aviation industry at large. The 2018 tour will be travelling the west side of the United States visiting over a dozen aviation and non-aviation events engaging with new audiences. The tour will gain over 5,000,000 impressions and over 30,000 visits to the exhibit.
THE POWER OF PARTNERSHIP

EAA Publications

Whether you want your message to reach aviators year-round or during the week of AirVenture, EAA has a variety of print and digital options to meet your advertising needs.

EAA Sport Aviation

EAA’s flagship magazine is considered by members to be the No. 1 benefit of membership. With a variety of news, information, and advice for the pilot, builder, and restorer, EAA Sport Aviation is a publication that readers return to again and again. Members report spending a significant amount of time each month reading a majority of the magazine. On average, members read 70 percent of the magazine each month, 40 percent read all of the magazine, and 21 percent read it cover to cover. The digital edition, read by members throughout the world, provides advertisers even greater exposure through this must-read publication.

EAA Sport Aviation—more than 200,000 passionate readers! Nearly 84 percent of EAA members consider EAA Sport Aviation the No. 1 benefit of membership.

“The EAA and particularly Sport Aviation allows us to get our message out to a large number of active pilots and aircraft owners and stay within a reasonable budget. 15 years later we continue to use the EAA and Sport Aviation to keep our name recognized worldwide.”

— John Herman, Tempest
You can also speak to aviators with special interests through EAA's community magazines—Warbirds, Vintage Airplane, and Sport Aerobatics. Aviators who subscribe to these publications have formed a special bond with the aircraft and lifestyle featured in every issue.

Warbirds is dedicated to preserving military aircraft of all eras and is avidly read by one of the highest-income demographic segments in the general aviation marketplace. Warbirds covers all the activities and adventures of this active group of aviators.

Published eight times a year

Vintage Airplane features articles detailing the restoration and history of aircraft rebuilt by members, as well as historical pieces consisting of the recollections of those who were active during the heyday of these aircraft.

Published six times a year

Sport Aerobatics is aviation’s only magazine devoted totally to recreational and competition aerobatics. The publication and its readers are dedicated to safety through knowledge and education, as well as flying fun at all altitudes.

Published monthly

Distributed to over 10,000 member and non-member aerobatic enthusiasts monthly
You can get the most impact for your advertising dollars by combining print advertising with EAA’s digital offerings. The popular e-Hotline weekly electronic newsletter has more than 100,000 opt-in subscribers, and our website, www.EAA.org, has more than 43 million annual impressions. EAA is the aviator’s source for news happening within the membership and within the industry.

> 205,189 unique visitors per month
> More than 19.2 million average page views
> 4 minutes spent on average on video pages

Not only do EAA’s print and digital advertising opportunities reach an avid audience hungry for information, but they also reach those who are planning their trip to the next AirVenture. Aviators begin planning early, checking print and digital materials often as they plan the annual migration to Oshkosh. This provides you with a fantastic opportunity to reach tens of thousands of aviators and aviation enthusiasts though a variety of media channels.

> When planning their AirVenture trip, more than 60 percent of visitors went online to EAA.org or AirVenture.org.
> Forty percent read about AirVenture in EAA Sport Aviation, and another 30 percent received their information from EAA e-mails.

THE POWER OF PARTNERSHIP

AirVenture Advertising

While at AirVenture, guests look to a variety of media sources to plan each day, and this provides you with a one-of-a-kind opportunity to get your message to more than 550,000 enthusiasts who visit each year.

AirVenture Today, AirVenture’s daily newspaper, reaches an audience of 20,000 readers each day, providing daily highlights and news happening on convention grounds.

AirVenture Visitor & Camper’s Guide is guests’ go-to, most reliable source for everything AirVenture including exhibitor listings, dining options, AirVenture maps, and camping information. Advertising in this guide heightens your visibility with hundreds of thousands of guests. Distribution of 75,000.

Commemorative Souvenir Program reaches those looking for more behind-the-scenes information about AirVenture. Your message will still be seen well after AirVenture as the program is a keepsake, read for entertainment.

The Jumbotron is strategically located throughout the show grounds to allow you to reach the masses quickly and conveniently at AirVenture. The Jumbotron provides easy access to drive visitors to your exhibit space.

Megatrons are conveniently located on the AirVenture show grounds to provide continual updates and information to guests. With locations near the air show flightline, guests will surely take notice of your message on these electronic mega-billboards.

AirVenture App is the official mobile guide for getting the most out of AirVenture. With over 40,000 downloads and 1.7 million app screen views, guests have the ability to browse more than 1,000 projected attractions, workshops, and forums to create their own personal schedule. With over 800 exhibitors and a map of locations, the app is the go-to resource for real-time information.

For more than 60 years, EAA has inspired people to increase their understanding and participate in aviation. From our world-class museum, to our youth and adult education, to our flight experiences, we have helped people, of all ages, realize their dreams.

EAA is a community of pilots and aviation enthusiasts who promote and support recreational flying. Our mission is simple— to grow participation in aviation by sharing The Spirit of Aviation. Our members represent every aspect of aviation. Becoming a donor to EAA helps to further our mission and increase your commitment to a group of like-minded individuals. Whether you contribute as an individual or as a corporation, you have the opportunity to support initiatives that align with your passion.

One of the most popular ways to give is to participate in EAA’s Gathering of Eagles. Held annually during EAA’s AirVenture, this event offers many opportunities to further our industry leading educational work. Donors can purchase individual seats or an entire table, become an event sponsor, or donate an auction item. In 2017, the event raised over two million dollars for EAA’s youth and education programs.

In addition to the Gathering of Eagles, the organization engages donors in many other ways. Each year individuals can become members of the President’s Circle by giving gifts of $10,000 and above, participate in the EAA Annual Fund for Excellence— Every Member Campaign, or in our aircraft sweepstakes and car raffle.
Donors can direct their giving towards a specific initiative or scholarship for an EAA Academy camp, flight training, etc., the options are endless. EAA also offers donor opportunities to create named endowment funds to benefit the organization and its programs in perpetuity.

As a result of private giving, EAA has:

- Annually flown 75,000 EAA Young Eagles with over 2 million flown since the program began in 1992
- Enrolled 30,000 Young Eagles in the free Sporty’s Learn to Fly Course
- Inspired more than 20,000 Young Eagles to earn their pilot certificates
- Participate in EAA Air Academy camps each summer to further aviation growth and development of nearly 350 youth
- Launched the EAA Eagle Flights program in 2012 to introduce adults to aviation and help them take the next steps to becoming a pilot
- Advancing the knowledge and information of our flying community by offering webinars, Hints for Homebuilders videos, and SportAir Workshops
- Maintaining the EAA Aviation Museum and Pioneer Airport year-round that engages over 60,000 visitors each year
